

Preannouncement Ghana Heritage Day, 12 September 2012

Leiden, 27 June 2012

Dear Sir/Madam,

You are cordially invited to the Ghana Heritage Day on the 12th of September. The Ghana Heritage Day is organized by the Centre for International Heritage Activities in cooperation with the Rijksmuseum and will take place at the Rijksmuseum. More information on the programme will follow soon.

Dutch heritage professionals working with and in Ghana are brought together to exchange experiences and knowledge on projects and activities in the field of Ghanaian-Dutch mutual cultural heritage.

Professionals working on heritage projects outside Ghana, but with similar themes and expertises are also warmly invited to participate at the Ghana Heritage Day, to exchange knowledge and experiences relevant to the Ghanaian-Dutch heritage field and mutual cultural heritage in general.

Objectives of the Ghana Heritage Day

The aim of the Heritage Day is to improve connections between projects and partners, bring experts together and discuss fundamental issues on heritage activities. For information on previous heritage days please visit our website at www.heritage-activities.nl

The programme consists of different presentations and discussions that give insight in the Ghanaian heritage field. For more information on experts and projects, please see www.culturalheritageconnections.org

Registration

To register for the Heritage Day Ghana or to receive more information about participation at the Heritage Day please write an email to: erfgoeddag@heritage-activities.nl c/o Heritage Day Ghana. The final programme will follow.

Poster presentation

In addition to the presentations and discussions, all completed, running and proposed projects on Ghana can be presented by means of a poster presentation. More information on participation in the poster presentation will follow soon.
